Overview

In recent years, the watch industry has experienced a surge in purchasing activity. Watches have become highly sought after, often commanding premium prices in secondary markets. However, navigating this complex landscape can be challenging. HKIB collaborates with Christie's Watches Hong Kong to unlock insights into the art of collecting beyond trends. Discover the enduring allure of timeless collections and explore strategies for buyers to build a curated and resilient portfolio. The seminar will explore how to leverage auctions and make informed decisions in the dynamic world of collecting and alternative assets.

Agenda

➢ Investment Strategies: Insights into effective approaches for collecting in watches beyond current trends.
➢ Market Demand: Exploration of growing demand for watches and their premium pricing in secondary markets.
➢ Building a Curated Collection: Guidance for buyers on creating a well-rounded and resilient watch collection.
➢ Auction Strategies: Tips on leveraging auctions to purchase watches and make informed decisions.

Who Should Attend?

➢ Relationship Managers in charge of high net worth individuals
➢ Executives with interests in watch collections
