

MBTI-Driven Leadership Excellence

Programme Code: THRSS00P27011
21 January 2027 (Thursday)
12:00nn – 2:00pm

Programme Outline

This workshop aims to ignite executives' self-awareness and empower them to develop their own effective communication and leadership styles by using the tools of MBTI. Using an inside-out approach that blends personality theories with the latest management frameworks, and practical examples from senior management experience, they will gain a wide range of essential managerial skills including listening, coaching, motivation and conflict resolution.

This programme is designed for executives who want to leverage MBTI insights to strengthen their communication and leadership capabilities and build high-performing teams.

Key Learning Points:

- Understand MBTI personality types and their impact, including the 16 types and self-affirmation on MBTI
- Develop effective communication strategies with different MBTI types
- Develop advanced coaching skills to enhance staff performance, including the GROW Model
- Learn practical techniques for effectively engaging and motivating diverse teams, including key motivation factors and use of praising strategies
- Apply situational leadership principles to adapt to varying individual characteristics
- Master conflict resolution strategies to maintain team harmony
